Energy Efficient Refurbishment: Dos, don'ts and don't have tos

This half-day seminar delivered by the Energy Saving Trust aims to:

- show the requirements for energy efficiency within the wider context of refurbishment to planning and building regulations
- provide you with up to date policy guidance, and clarify where requirements do and do not apply
- provide you with practical case studies and tools for evaluating refurbishment projects
- offer information on a range of tools suitable for evaluating the scope for refurbishment and financial assistance available.

Who should attend?

Architects, designers and housing professionals involved in domestic refurbishment who are interested in maximising the potential for energy efficiency within their projects or finding out their obligations under the regulatory system.

Speakers

Gina Yuzbasioglu

Gina is a senior consultant to the Energy Saving Trust Housing programme specialising as a technical author. Gina works for BRE Housing.

James Honour
